

Fundraise your way

Every fundraising activity or event, big or small, helps support people affected by leukaemia, MDS and MPN. Every year, hundreds of people get involved, often with friends and colleagues. Some use something they're already a part of, while others create new activities.

How could you get involved?

You might want to bake cakes, organise a quiz night, get sporty or plan something completely different. However you choose to do it, your fundraising efforts make a real difference.

Ideas to get you started

- You could hold a bake sale or coffee morning at work, school or in your local community.
- Quizzes or games nights are always fun.
- Dress down days or fancy-dress events can bring colour and laughter to schools or workplaces.
- Sports challenges such as five a side football, sponsored swims or fun runs are great ways to get active.
- National, seasonal or cultural events are also a good time to fundraise.
- Are you part of a club or group, such as a local service club, social group or sports team? You could come together to support us.
- Or you could create something personal that reflects your hobbies, your community or a loved one.
